UNITED STATES' COURSE DEPENDS ON GERMANY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The government began a vigil today that may be broken momentarily or be long drawn out. It is believed the course of the United States will be shaped immutably as Germany makes effective unrestricted warfare.

The president hopes, however, that hostilities will be avoided with Germany, and that the force of neutral opinion will bring about an early peace between the warring European nations.

It is not revealed whether or not any responses have been received from th neutrals on the president's suggestion that they follow the example of the United States and break with Germany.

Germany has acquiesced in the demands of the United States for the release of the Americans taken from the ships sunk by the Gorman raider and this is regarded as a conciliatory attitude.

Although officials refused to admit formal announcement of Austria's adhesion to Germany's submarine policy had been received, it is believed that such an announcement is before the United States government and action is being considered.

Resolutions endorsing the president's action in severing diplomatic relations with Germany was today introduced in the Senate by Chairman Stone of he Foreign Relaons committee. Senator Stone requested that the resolutions go over. This was done without debate.

Arrangents are being made for all German consular officials to accompany Count von Bernstorff out of the country. A party of more than 300 will probably go via Cuba to Spain.

The president today appeared to congress to dispose of all routine business and have the decks cleared for any eventuality. He wants Congress ready in case he is forced to address it again for authority to use the resources of the country to protect American ships and lives.

Customs Collector Malone, of New York, reported that a bomb was found under his house this morning.

Count von Bernstorff and the consuls plan to leave via Key West by rail, traveling over the Florida East Coast Railway.

About 8:00 o'clock this morning a number of observers on the beach plainly saw a battleship going south under forced draught. The vessel was not close enough to shore to discern its name or definite description but it is believed to be a cruiser. It is likely that the vessel is on its way to join the Atlantic fleet now patrolling near the naval base Guantanamo.

The president today conferred with Secretary Daniels and Secretary Baker in reference to expediting legislation to empower the government to take over ship yards and munition plants should such action become necessary.

It is indicated that in the event of war many submarines and submarine chasers will be constructed.

A bill was introduced in congress today empowering the president to take over railroads in time of war.

EIGHTEEN MILLION MEN AVAILABLE FOR SERVICE IN CASE OF HOSTILITIES

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Nearly eighteen million men are available for military service for the United States in case of serious emergency, according to the estimate of Mayor Mitchell's committee on national defense. It is said there are more than ten and one-half millions of men between the ages of 18 and 45 fit for field service.

INTERNED GERMAN SHIPS AT MANILA DAMAGED

MANILA, Feb. 5.—Port authorities today found that all the 17 German ships interned here have been damaged extensively.

The Navy authorities later seized all the German vessels, removing the German crews.

GERMANW WANTS TO REAFFIRM TREATY.

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—The Associated Press learns authoritatively that Germany will propose a re-ratification of the Prussian-American treaties of 1799 and 1828, allowing nationals nine months in which to leave either country in case of war.

SWEDEN ASKS FOR INFORMATION.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—A Stockholm dispatch says the Swedish Charge d' Affaires at Berlin has been instructed to ask Germany for an investigation of the torpedoing of the Swedish steamer Edda. Sweden reserves the right for future action.

FORD OFFERS FACTORY TO GOVERNMENT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Henry Ford today announced that in the event of war he will place his factory at the disposal of the government and operate without profit.

GENERAL PERSHING CROSSES BORDER.

COLUMBUS, New Mexico, Feb. 5.—General Pershing at the head of 10,000 soldiers of the punitive expedition crossed the border this morning.

AMERICAN LINER SAILS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The American line has been notified that the steamer New York, the first American passenger ship to sail since Germany's new submarine order, left Liverpool Saturday. The American liner Philadelphia arrived at Liverpool Sunday and the liner Finland docked this morning.

A. C. ARB ARRIVES IN DAYTONA FROM NEW YORK

A. C. Arb arrived in Daytona this morning for a stay of a fortnight. He came direct from New York but stopped off Sunday at St. Augustine as a guest of the Alcazar. Arb's in person are well known through the visit as specialists in milady's outer garments and their Daytona store reflects the latest ideas in advanced styles. Mr. Arb brought with him many exquisite patterns for Daytona customers. "I was glad to escape the extremely low temperature of New York," he said. "When I started for Florida the mercury was going down and not until I reached this state did I escape sleet and snow. I am glad to see the sunshine and greet my friends in Daytona."

"THE PRIDE OF THE CLAN" AT NEW DAYTONA TODAY

In her newest Artcraft picture, "The Pride of the Clan," now being shown at the New Daytona theatre, Mary Pickford has the novelty of having her brother-in-law as stage lover. In other words, the popular Matt Moore, brother of the equally popular Owen Moore, the husband of Mary Pickford, has this part to play. The story is Scotch and notwithstanding the fact that he is Irish—and proud of it—Mr. Moore makes in the picture, just the lad to win the heart of a bonny lassie. For all that, Mary Pickford is Irish, too, but she is a wonderfully charming Scotch lass in "The Pride of the Clan" and in kilts she never presented a more engaging picture of her lovely self.

SENSATIONAL PICTURE COMING TO NEW DAYTONA

The sensational picturization of vice under the title of "The Little Girl Next Door," is to be presented for an engagement at the New Daytona theatre, Wednesday and Thursday. It presents frankly and vividly many things which every parent and every girl should know in order that the former may advise and admonish and the latter may avoid the indiscretions that lead to lives of shame and misery. Its various episodes are based upon actual experiences. They are the stories told by girls who testified before the Illinois Vice commission, re-enacted professional players, making a picture, or rather series of pictures, of life in the underworld, in which laughter and thrills and all the other elements that go to make up any story or play are found in the proper proportions. This statement I made because the impression might be formed that "The Little Girl Next Door," is purely a sermon drama.

While all the episodes are gripping and illuminating, that which shows the fight against great odds which is waged by a social worker and the district attorney to whom she is engaged in which is disclosed the power and influence of vice, reaching into politics and effecting law enforcement, is the most instructive. In this picture the district attorney and his fiance secure a pure girl from white slavers, but the former ruins his political future by antagonizing the influence which control the tenderloin wards. Other pictures show how cadets secure young girls for rich rogues. In all vice is shown, not in an alluring or attractive guise, but in a manner to be abhorred by every girl.

Many of the reformers who testified before the commission are shown as well as the commission in session, and views of some of the infamous resorts of Chicago, which have been closed as a result of the commission's findings. A fitting finale to the picture is the suggestion that if the story of "The Little Girl Next Door" saves other little girls it will have served its purpose.

IRENE FENWICK IN "A GIRL LIKE THAT"

Irene Fenwick, who scored such a great success in her recent Famous Players-Paramount picture "A Coney Island Princess," is starred by that company in "A Girl Like That," which is the attraction at the Crystal theatre tomorrow.

Nell Gordon is unfortunate in her ancestry—her father is a crook—but she possesses rare qualities of resourcefulness and loyalty. Though she loves her father, she detests his associates, particularly one Bill Whipple, who is her constant suitor. Joe Dunham, who does the scouting for the trio, finds a very likely bank in the prosperous town of Wheaton, the fact that a new book-keeper is needed there opening a way for the gang to get into the bank, as Nell is an expert. Working on her love for her father, who is a very sick man, Whipple and Dunham persuade Nell to go to Wheaton and take the position.

Boarding with the Rev. Dr. Singleton, Nell wins the confidence of Jim Brooks, cashier of the bank, and of Tom Bradley, his best friend and [illegible] of the county. What the girl is working for of course is the combination of the safe, but before she has a chance to get it, she begins to realize that she is in love with the cashier. On the very day that she learns the combination and copies it, Jim proposes to her and, after a tremendous internal struggle, she decides that her love for him is greater than her loyalty to the gang, and she surrenders concealing her identity—she had come to the town under an assumed name.

Becoming suspicious of Nell's delay in forwarding word to them, Whipple and Dunham attempt to force her father to write a note ordering her to act quickly, but the old man refuses and is shot. The two crooks go to Wheaton at once and try to force Nell to rob the bank the night they arrive.

She has undergone complete reformation and has even confessed her identity to Jim's friend and is planning to leave Wheaton rather than bring disgrace upon the man she loves. Now she discovers that her father has been murdered by the pair that is trying to force her to commit this crime and she decides to be revenged. Apparently consenting to their demands she gets them into the bank, but not until she has warned the sheriff. Nell is wounded in the fight which follows and when she awakens, finds herself in the arms of the man whom she attempted to escape because she loved him.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

HONEY TASTIES.

BUTTER HONEY CAKE.—Rub together a cupful and a half of honey and half a cupful of butter, add the unbeaten yolks of three eggs and beat thoroughly. Add five cupfuls of flour sifted with two teaspoonfuls of ground cinnamon and half a teaspoonful of salt and a teaspoonful and a half of soda dissolved in a tablespoonful of orange flower water. Beat the mixture thoroughly and add the well beaten whites of three eggs. Bake in shallow tins and cover with frosting as follows:

Orange Frosting For Honey Cake.—Mix grated rind of an orange, a teaspoonful of lemon juice, a tablespoonful of orange juice and an egg yolk together and allow the mixture to stand for an hour. Strain and add confectioner's sugar until the frosting is sufficiently thick to be spread on the cake.

Honey Sponge Cake.—Mix one-half cupful of sugar and one-half cupful of honey and boil until the sirup will spin a thread when dropped from a spoon. Pour the sirup over the yolks of four eggs which have been beaten until light. Beat the mixture until cold, then add a cupful of sifted flour and cut and fold the beaten whites of the eggs into the mixture. Bake for forty or fifty minutes in a pan lined with buttered paper in a slow oven.

Honey Bran Cookies.—Mix half a cupful of sugar, a quarter teaspoonful of cinnamon, a quarter teaspoonful of ginger and half a teaspoonful of soda with three cupfuls of bran, half a cupful of honey, half a cupful of milk and half a cupful of melted butter. Drop from a spoon on a buttered pan and bake fifteen minutes.

Salad Dressing.—Four egg yolks, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar or lemon juice, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of honey, a teaspoonful of mustard, a teaspoonful of salt, paprika to taste and a cupful of cream.

Heat the cream in a double boiler. Beat the eggs and add to them all the other ingredients but the cream. Pour the cream slowly over the mixture, beating constantly. Pour it into the double boiler and cook until it thickens or mix all the ingredients but the cream and cook in a double boiler until the mixture thickens. As the dressing is needed combine this mixture with whipped cream. This dressing is particularly suitable for fruit salads.

Baked Honey Custard.—Beat five eggs sufficiently to unite the yolks and whites, but not enough to make them foamy. Add four cupfuls scalded milk, one-half cupful honey, one-eighth teaspoonful powdered cinnamon and one-quarter tablespoonful salt. Bake in cups or in a large pan set in water in a moderate oven.

Honey Ice Cream.—Mix a quart thin cream with three-quarters cupful delicately flavored honey; freeze.

CLEAR AWAY ALL FROZEN SHRUBBERY

MAYOR C. M. BINGHAM SUGGESTS THAT ALL FROZEN PLANTS AND SHRUBBERY BE REMOVED AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

In conversation with a News representative this morning in relation to the damage resulting from the recent low temperature and the desolate appearance presented by frozen plants and shrubbery, Col. C. M. Bingham, mayor of the city, made the suggestion that residents and property owners cut away and remove such frozen plants, shrubs and trees as soon as possible, as their appearance has a depressing effect on both residents and visitors. It is, of course, understood that in some cases it will be necessary to wait for a time in order to distinguish the extent of the injury to some plants, but much of the frozen foliage can be trimmed away at once and the remainder as soon as the amount of damage is apparent. This will leave the grounds and house lots in much better condition than if littered with the desolate reminders of their floral adornment. This is not the first freeze that has visited Florida and her people will rise from it as they have done in the past. It may be years before another disaster of this kind visits the state and all property owners and householders should already be making preparations to replace their frozen plants and shrubbery as well as their fruit trees, for that chance of corruption.

Uncle Eben.

"Some men is so dead set fob wealth," said Uncle Eben, "dat de only way to make 'em want to go to heaven is to remind 'em dat de streets is paved wif gold."

The Mystery Deepens.

You have heard of the woman who was shot between the kitchen and the woodshed. But the Erie dispatch recently went that story one better, like this: "The woman's body was found with two bullet wounds in the bathtub."—Associated Advertising.

The Greatest Love.

No language can express the power and beauty and heroism and majesty of a mother's love. It shrinks not where man cowers, and grows stronger where man faints, and over the wastes of worldly fortune sends the radiance of quenchless fidelity like a star in heaven.—E. H. Chapin.

Pretty Safe Bet.

Little Willie, stretched flat on his stomach, was watching the bucket as it was lowered into an ocean well at the end of a long rope. Impressed by the great depth, he was finally able to contain himself no longer. "I'll bet that rope is more than half an inch long," he asserted with conviction.

Muddled Thinking.

It would be foolish to say that a dynamo and an electric light are the same thing; that green apples is a term synonymous with indigestion; that an architect's plans are the same thing as a completed building, or that sex attraction is but another name for the social institution called the family. In the same way it is an evidence of muddled thinking to consider that being good is the same thing as being religious.—Bernard I. Bell in [illegible]

CLEAR AWAY ALL FROZEN SHRUBBERY

MAYOR C. M. BINGHAM SUGGESTS THAT ALL FROZEN PLANTS AND SHRUBBERY BE REMOVED AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

In conversation with a News representative this morning in relation to the damage resulting from the recent low temperature and the desolate appearance presented by frozen plants and shrubbery, Col. C. M. Bingham, mayor of the city, made the suggestion that residents and property owners cut away and remove such frozen plants, shrubs and trees as soon as possible, as their appearance has a depressing effect on both residents and visitors. It is, of course, understood that in some cases it will be necessary to wait for a time in order to distinguish the extent of the injury to some plants, but much of the frozen foliage can be trimmed away at once and the remainder as soon as the amount of damage its apparent. This will leave the grounds and house lots in much better condition than if littered with the desolate reminders of their floral adornment. This is not the first freeze that has visited Florida and her people will rise from it as they have done in the past. It may be years before another disaster of this kind visits the state and all proerty owners and householders should already be making preparations to replace their frozen plants and shrubbery, as well as their fruit trees, for that chance of exemption.

The Greatest Love.

No language can express the power and beauty and heroism and majesty of a mother's love. It shrinks not where man cowers, and grows stronger where man faints, and over the wastes of worldly fortune sends the radiance of quenchless fidelity like a star in heaven.—E. H. Chapin.

Pretty Safe Bet.

Little Willie, stretched flat on his stomach, was watching the bucket as it was lowered into an open well at the end of a long rope. Impressed by the great depth, he was finally able to contain himself no longer. "I'll bet that rope is more than half an inch long," he asserted with conviction

BINGHAM AND MALEY TO HAVE FURNITURE STORE ON PENINSULA

WELL KNOWN DAYTONA FIRM BUYS CROQUET GROUNDS ON CORNER SEABREEZE AVENUE AND LIVE OAK STREET.

Bingham and Maley company, the well-known furniture house of Daytona, have recently purchased the large vacant lot on the corner of Seabreeze avenue and Live Oak street now occupied by the Daytona Beach public park, with the intention of erecting on it before the beginning of the next winter season, a branch store to their large furniture establishment in Daytona. The lot was purchased from its owner, S. Hubbell, of Syracuse, N. Y., through the agency of W. H. Courtney.

Bingham and Maley company have for some time been considering the establishing of a branch store at the beach, owing to the increase in population and business on the peninsula in the past few years. The new building will in all probability be a substantial structure of brick, which will indeed be an addition to the main business street.

At present this large Hubbell lot is used by the city as a public park for the winter tourists. There are many comfortable benches, checker tables, two quoits grounds, three croquet courts and several good shade trees so that on the many pleasant days of winter, from 50 to 150 men from Indiana, Ohio, New York and every other state of the north and west congregate to enjoy themselves. This assembly of well-to-do northerners is called by many, the Daytona Beach "board of trade."

Where the winter visitors will move their cherished playground to is not definitely known. No other lot on Seabreeze avenue is so suitable or so centrally located as the present. They will probably not be deprived of its use until shortly before the new Bingham and Maley building is begun.

MEETING OF HIGH SCHOOL PARLIAMENTARY CLUB

The regular meeting of the Daytona Beach-Seabreeze high school parliamentary club took place last Friday afternoon at the high school room. After the business hour the following program was given by members of the school:

Exhibitions of Greek Costumes.—Lucile Johnson.

The Life of a Greek Schoolboy.—Leeare McLarty.

The Art of Ancient Greece.—Mary Parsons.

Greece and Her Heroes.—May Haigh.

SPECIAL MUSIC PLEASES THE CONGREGATION AT M. E. CHURCH

The congregation at the First Methodist church of Daytona was pleasantly surprised by an excellent special musical number at the Sunday morning service. Mrs. H. W. Drake, of Seabreeze, and E. H. Brown sang a beautiful soprano and tenor duet, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say."

AT LEAST ONE MAN BRAVES WEATHER TO GET OCEAN BATH

One man and one only had the courage to don his bathing suit and brave the wintry blasts, Sunday afternoon, in order to get an ocean bath. T. H. Lacy, advertising solicitor of the Daily News, was the center of attraction at the beach near the pier Sunday, when he strode across the beach in his bathing apparel and entered the water with a splash, and enjoyed a few minutes' swim. Seven or eight tourists insisted on photographing Mr. Lacy when he came out of the breakers.

In spite of the cold air, Mr. Lacy said that the water was warm and just right for an invigorating bath. Mr. Lacy is a native of Texas which very favorably accounts for his iron constitution.

HUNDREDS OF FRIENDS ATTEND SIMS FUNERAL

Nearly 200 friends of the late Chester H. Sims attended the funeral at the Sims residence, Earl street, Sunday afternoon at 2:30, and the interment at the lot on the north end of the main Pinewood cemetery terrace. Rev. Holmes S. Eightmire, of the First Baptist church of Daytona, officiated at the services.

The local carpenters and joiners union, No. 1725, of which Chas. Sims has been a well-liked member for several years, was in attendance in a body and scores of friends and neighbors who had known and liked the honest, hard-working, straightforward character of the late Chas. Sims came to offer their last respects. A trio, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Edwards and A. K. Brokaw, sang "Speak to My Soul, Dear Jesus," and "Abide With Me."

After the service at the home all went in a body to the grave at Pinewood, where the last rites were held and the remains laid away.

SEABREEZE

A beautiful 150-foot, ocean going yacht passed Seabreeze Sunday at noon. The boat was moving at a rapid rate of speed to the south and was about a mile from shore. It is the first large pleasure yacht to pass so close to the shore for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gaylord, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. T. Cunningham and G. Cunningham, of Clarksburg, W. Va., were visitors Sunday afternoon at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Davisson, of Mount Clare, W. Va., on Atlantic avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord arrived Sunday after making the trip from the north by auto. They are located at the Despland and will spend the winter in various parts of the state. The Cunningham party has been in Daytona for several weeks, residing at the Saint George.

DAYTONA BEACH

John E. Carr, of Adrian, Mich., a well-known business man, addressed the Christian Forum of the Daytona Beach Methodist church on the subject of "New News About Booze," Sunday morning at 10:30. A large crowd was in attendance in spite of the cold weather.

On account of the low temperature and cutting off of the gas supply on the peninsula, both the morning and evening services of the Daytona Beach Methodist church were held in the church basement. Although the space was not sufficient to accommodate the large congregation every one was able to keep warm.

Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Alkire, of Weston, W. Va., who recently purchased the Mosbaugh cottage on Grandview avenue from Colonel J. B. Morris, have moved into their new home and will occupy it for the remainder of the winter. Mr. Alkire is a regular winter visitor of the beach and an owner of considerable property in this vicinity.

For Safety.

A man in the West was saved from death when a shot fired at him struck a silver dollar in his vest pocket. The moral of this is always to carry money in one's vest pocket. If one has no money, then the safety first movement suggests the prompt borrowing of it from the nearest easy friend.

SHARP SHOWER FOLLOWED BY MORE COLD WEATHER

Slightly warmer weather Sunday was followed by a sharp shower Sunday night which preceded another cold wave, the temperature falling several degrees after daybreak this morning and the wind whipping back into the north and blowing strong and cold. The rainfall Sunday night is reported by J. G. Brown to have been .29 of an inch or nearly three times the total precipitation in the month of January.

Mongoose Rat-Catcher.

Accidentally I found the [illegible] method of dealing with the rat. His shop was one paradise—[illegible] enough of poison to send the whole street to the cemetery. But he pinned his faith to a small animal, which was taking a siesta on the best chair. A mongoose, he explained, as he carefully stroked its tail. Now how many mongoose (if that is the plural) are required to deal with how many rats? And where do you get a mongoose, and what do you feed him on—if he wants anything but rats?—London Chronicle.

Children Find Viking Relics.

An interesting find of Viking relics of the ninth century was recently discovered at Valtos, in the island of Lewis, by schoolchildren. The relics consisted of a pair of large oval brooches of a noted Scandinavian type, a small penannular brooch, a disk-shaped ornament with a central boss and a decoration of interlaced loops, a small buckle, part of a bronze chain, probably used to connect the large oval brooches, and a single big amber bead.—London Globe.

HOTEL ORMOND, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Wm. Stockdale, of [illegible], are visiting different resorts in Florida, and are stopping now at the Ormond Hotel for a week before going farther south.

A most delightful luncheon was given on Thursday to Miss Emily Chapin, the occasion being Miss Emily's fifteenth birthday. The party sailed up the Halifax and Tomoka Creek and landed at Mound Grove, where a very interesting trip was taken through the orange grove and packing house. A very dainty luncheon was then served on board the boat under the direction of J. H. Looby, head waiter of the hotel, which was enjoyed by all. On the return trip made at sunset when the beauty of the river is at its height, a fishing game by the younger members of the party was in order. Little Miss Hallie capturing the largest fish, a peculiar green fish usually found in the Poland Springs region in Maine—in fact it bore the label "Poland Springs."

The following well known guests of the Ormond were present: Mrs. W. B. Chapin, Mrs. Rathbone, Mrs. Mackay, Anne Lindsay, Miss Sarah Chapin, Mrs. Flanders, Mrs. Snyder, Miss Lounge, Miss Drake, Miss Lindsay Beach, Miss Mary Rathbone, Miss Julia Rathbone and Miss Emily Chapin.

Mrs. Henry Irons, of New York, entertained several of her friends at the Ormond Hotel to luncheon at her Japanese bungalow yesterday.

Mrs. Walter Geddes and child, Pittsburgh, Pa., will spend several weeks at the Ormond.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Walsh, of Lynn, Mass., are spending a week at the Ormond.

Mr. and Mrs. John Luederes, of New York City are stopping for a week at the Ormond on their way north from Palm Beach. Mr. Luederes is an enthusiastic golfer, and is to be seen daily on the Ormond Beach Links.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Watson, of Rochester, N. Y., are making an extended stay at the Ormond. They are former valued guests.

Harry W. Babcock and mother, Mrs. C. C. Babcock, of Stonington, Ct., have arrived at the Ormond for an extended visit.

There Might Have Been.

A Boston minister who always preaches to large congregations made sanctimonious, psalm singing, professed Christians who have no real religion in their make-up a target for his wit. A little boy who heard him remarked after he returned home from the morning service: "Mother, I shouldn't have thought Doctor Blank would have spoken that way about Christians this morning. There might have been some of them in church."—Exchange.

Sustenance in Nettles.

Nettles good human food? Of course! They have been known as such immemorially in thrifty Switzerland and other careful countries. There is no better rival to spinach in the whole vegetable kingdom. And the nettle ought to be utilized, it does so abound. It is the one weed, almost the only one, that grows in all countries under the sun, so say gardeners who fight it year by year and have never taken the right revenge of eating it.—London Chronicle.

To Remove Moisture From Cans.

No matter how good the quality of your coffee the beverage will not be up to the standard unless the coffee can be sweet and clean. I have found that by dropping a lump of sugar into the coffee can, after it has been thoroughly cleaned, and keeping it there until again used, the sugar may absorb every trace of moisture in the can and keep it sweet and fresh. Of course, a fresh lump of sugar must be used each time.—New York Evening Sun.

Red Hair and Pugnacity.

Red-headed persons have always been reputed to be quick tempered and ready to fight at the slightest provocation. "Red-haired people be [illegible] that are to drede," runs a precept of the fifteenth century, and an old French proverb says: "Salute no red-haired man nearer than 30 feet off, and even so, hold three stones in thy fist wherewith to defend thyself."

Friendship.

Friendship springs up and grows naturally; it cannot be planted at will. Foolish friendships are often formed in youth. It is useless to talk against them, since young people always resent criticism of their friends. We must simply tolerate them and trust to the awakening of common sense to prove all foolish friendships false and unworthy.

Had to Kick About Something.

"What's the old hen kicking about now?" asked the baker's clerk, as the customer went out. "She says," wrathfully responded the baker, "that the holes in the doughnuts are not as large as they used to be."—Judge.

Too Much to Expect.

"That man is so honest he wouldn't steal a pin," said Mr. Goode. "I never thought much of the pin test," answered Mr. Cayenne. "Try him with an umbrella."—Stray Stories.

There Might Have Been.

A Boston minister who always preaches to large congregations made sanctimonious, psalm singing, professed Christians who have no real religion in their make-up a target for his wit. A little boy who heard him remarked after he returned home from the morning service: "Mother, I shouldn't have thought Doctor Blank would have spoken that way about Christians this morning. There might have been some of them in church."—Exchange.

Sustenance in Nettles.

Nettles good human food? Of course! They have been known as such immemorially in thrifty Switzerland and other careful countries. There is no better rival to spinach in the whole vegetable kingdom. And the nettle ought to be utilized, it does so abound. It is the one weed, almost the only one, that grows in all countries under the sun, so say gardeners who fight it year by year and have never taken the right revenge of eating it.—London Chronicle.

To Remove Moisture From Cans.

No matter how good the quality of your coffee the beverage will not be up to the standard unless the coffee can be sweet and clean. I have found that by dropping a lump of sugar into the coffee can, after it has been thoroughly cleaned, and keeping it there until again used, the sugar may absorb every trace of moisture in the can and keep it sweet and fresh. Of course, a fresh lump of sugar must be used each time.—New York Evening Sun.

Red Hair and Pugnacity.

Red-headed persons have always been reputed to be quick-tempered and ready to fight at the slightest provocation. "Red-haired people be folke that are to drede," runs a precept of the fifteenth century; and an old French proverb says: "Salute no red-haired man nearer than 80 feet off, and even so, hold three stones in thy fist wherewith to defend thyself."

Friendship.

Friendship springs up and grows naturally; it cannot be planted at will. Foolish friendships are often formed in youth. It is useless to talk against them, since young people always resent criticism of their friends. We must simply tolerate them and trust to the awakenings of common sense to prove all frivolous friendships false and unworthy.

Had to Kick About Something.

"What's the old hen kicking about now?" asked the baker's clerk, as the customer went out. "She says," wrathfully responded the baker, "that the holes in the doughnuts are not as large as they used to be."—Judge.

Too Much to Expect.

"That man is so honest he wouldn't steal a pin," said Mr. Goode. "I never thought much of the pin test," answered Mr. Cayenne. "Try him with an umbrella."—Stray Stories.

A NATION'S PRAYER

(By Richard H. Edmonds, Editor Manufacturers Record.)

Teach us, O, Thou Almighty Ruler! Thy Will for the Nation and arm us with strength from on High to follow Thy guidance.

Let us not be moved by passion; nor controlled by fear.

Grant that we may know Thy leadership as clearly as Thy people of old saw the pillar of fire by night and the cloud by day; but save us from the lack of faith in Thy guidance and from the failure to follow Thy teachings which caused the people of Israel to wander for forty years through the wilderness.

In this, the supreme hour of civilization, when Heaven-given human liberty is at stake, grant that we may not falter when once we have clearly heard Thy command.

If it be Thy will that we serve by waiting, give us the patient strength to do it. If it be Thy will that we follow the awful perils of the armed contest, let us not do so in any spirit of vain glory, nor for any other reason than willingness to serve mankind by following where Thou leadest.

We long, O Prince of Peace for Thy rule and for the day when the implements of war shall be supplanted by the tools for man's advancement, when hate shall give place to love, when right shall be might, when from earth's remotest bounds shall be heard the glad cry of reunited families and reunited nations.

But we know not where Thou shall lead us ere that day shall come, and so seeking not our individual or national will but Thine, we beseech Thee that our eyes may be opened to see Thy leadership, our ears may be unstopped to hear Thy voice, and having seen and heard, may we be ready to do Thy will in good time.

We have grown selfish and self centered. We have longed for ease and prosperity more than for the power to serve mankind and thus serve Thee. But Thou hast called us unto mighty responsibilities. Help us to accept the burden and go forward in Thy name. Let us not be as those of old who because they were neither hot nor cold but lukewarm were spewed out of Thy mouth.

And grant that this nation may be united in thought and word and act; that all ill will and hatred may be melted out of us and all the people fused into one perfect whole ready to hear and follow Thy command.

Unto the leaders, the President and those in authority give in large measure Divine wisdom and in this hour may they have the strength of body and mind and soul needed to enable them to do Thy Righteous will.

CELEBRATES TENTH BIRTHDAY AT PARTY

Leon M. Waite, Jr., celebrated his tenth birthday on Saturday afternoon by inviting about thirty of his little playmates to a party at his parents' home on Magnolia avenue. The afternoon was spent in a very delightful way, the children enjoying games and the usual good time of a birthday party. A birthday cake with ten little sentinel candles, each denoting a year of the young man's life, centered a table prettily decorated with favors and flowers and good things to eat.

To mark the passing of his birthday, Leon, Jr., received a number of pretty birthday gifts, tokens of his esteem in the hearts of his little friends.

WILBUR BY THE SEA

WILBUR-BY-THE-SEA, Feb. 2.—"Reserve two ocean front rooms, with connecting bath for month of March. My friends say you are ideal entertainers," was the wire message received by the management of the Toronita hotel, from Colonel A. J. Van Buren, of New York. It is very gratifying to Miss Frances D. Piper, the manageress, to receive expressions of this kind from friends of the guests.

Among the interesting noted guests at the Toronita hotel is Judge Paxton, of Cincinnati, Ohio. This gentleman is one of the most highly respected members of the bar in Ohio.

A very enjoyable Hawaiian party was given at the Toronita hotel Saturday evening, and was enjoyed by the guests, as well as several of their friends from Daytona, DeLand and Ormond. One of the many features was a moonlight dance, in which the lobby was illuminated with joss sticks only, which proved very popular, the orchestra responding to several encores.

Another concert has been arranged for the Toronita hotel for Sunday night, and in addition to selections by the guests in the hotel, there will be selections by musicians from elsewhere.

These cold days guests greatly appreciate an ideal heating plant, such as the Toronita hotel boasts of, and no matter how inclement the weather may be, the management looks out for the welfare as well as the pleasure of all.

Ed. Healy, of Brookline, Mass., gave an oyster roast Friday evening and a general good time was enjoyed on the beach. The Wilbur quartet, a recently formed musical organization, enlivened the affair, and the pleasant evening will long be remembered.

Misses Ruth Wilbur and Elizabeth Kirkman, two popular young ladies, are very fond of equestrian sports, and may be seen daily riding through the attractive trails on their favorite Kentucky thoroughbred steeds.

FACTS ABOUT HALIFAX

That there is nothing experimental or theoretical in our tests and estimates of the Halifax lands, we find traces of the occupation of the land in the old Mission ruins, the foundations of ancient buildings and fortifications, the old sugar mills and an extensive system of drainage ditches. We find the old sugar fields today covered with great moss-draped live-oaks, magnolias and hickorys, and the dense and luxuriant hammock growing as heavy as virgin forest, with the furrows of the old fields still plainly visible under the trees.

It is a beautiful place for a picnic. We have a club house out there to which you will be hospitably welcomed. Drive out any day, you will find it worth while. Get one of our maps. It will show you the roads. Yours with pleasure if you will call for it.

FACTS ABOUT HALIFAX

That there is nothing experimental or theoretical in our tests and estimates of the Halifax lands, we find traces of the occupation of the land in the old Mission ruins, the foundations of ancient buildings and fortifications, the old sugar mills and an extensive system of drainage ditches. We find the old sugar fields today covered with great moss-draped live-oaks, magnolias and hickorys, and the dense and luxuriant hammock growing as heavy as virgin forest, with the furrows of the old fields still plainly visible under the trees.

It is a beautiful place for a picnic. We have a club house out there to which you will be hospitably welcomed. Drive out any day, you will find it worth while. Get one of our maps. It will show you the roads. Yours with pleasure if you will call for it.

CLARENDON BALLROOM MOST BRILLIANT SCENE

The ball room of the Clarendon was a brilliant scene Saturday night with exquisitely gowned women and their escorts, the inspiring music of the orchestra adding its strains to the atmosphere of gaiety. In the lobby the immense stone fire-place blazed with cypress logs and drew many groups who found the novelty of a fire in Seabreeze too fascinating to leave, even for a fox trot. The Dutch grill was the scene of several smart dinner parties before dancing commenced and later a number went down for supper after the dance. With few exceptions the dancing contingent at the Clarendon were noted on the floor, in addition to many guests from the Princess Issena, the Prince George and many from Daytona.

One of the smartest parties at the Clarendon this week was the dinner given by Mrs. John L. Roe, of New York, in the Dutch grill last night. Seated at the cleverly appointed table were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laughlin, Mrs. F. E. Fenton, Leverett Hayden and the hostess, Mrs. Roe. After dinner the party joined the dancers in the ball room.

R. G. Keeney, of New York, arrived yesterday, coming to join his parents General and Mrs. George Keeney, who are guests at the Clarendon for the season.

Miss Louise Wilson entertained informally at luncheon at the Clarendon Friday, her guests being Mr. and Mrs. Hague and Mrs. Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. James Laughlin, III, came from Orlando yesterday to join the former's mother, Mrs. James Laughlin, Jr., at the Clarendon.

Mrs. O. Taussig and Miss Taussig, of New York City, joined the coterie of season guests at the Clarendon yesterday, coming for their third winter at the hotel. Miss Taussig, one of the most charming of the New York society girls, will be a decided acquisition to the younger set.

W. P. Bacon and W. A. Nelson, of Derby, Conn., have joined F. H. Ward at the Clarendon for the season. Both Mr. Bacon and Mr. Nelson are enthusiastic sportsmen and are among the happy few who do everything well, from golf to bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer B. Fuller and little sons, Edward L., Henry S. and Mortimer B. Fuller, Jr., of Scranton, Pa., have taken a suite at the Clarendon to remain for several weeks.

Although Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Fullerton, of St. Louis, Mo., arrived in Seabreeze when the thermometer was registering anything but Florida weather they are quite content with their attractive surroundings at the Clarendon as the cold which takes the zest from outdoor sports is making indoor life even gayer than usual.

W. S. Gaylord, of Chicago, Ill., whose figure has been a familiar one at the Clarendon for several seasons, arrived last night and is receiving cordial welcome from the colony of winter visitors.

Chester H. Humphrey and Walter S. Barklow, well known society men of Boston, are late additions to the Massachusetts group at the Clarendon, where they will spend the next several weeks.

Canon McGrath will hold Sunday services in the music room of the Clarendon at 9 o'clock.

CLARENDON BALLROOM MOST BRILLIANT SCENE

The ball room of the Clarendon was a brilliant scene Saturday night with exquisitely gowned women and their escorts, the inspiring music of the orchestra adding its strains to the atmosphere of gaiety. In the lobby the immense stone fire-place blazed with cypress logs and drew many groups who found the novelty of a fire in Seabreeze too fascinating to leave, even for a fox-trot. The Dutch grill was the scene of several smart dinner parties before dancing commenced and later a number went down or supper after the dance. With few exceptions the dancing contingent at the Clarendon were noted on the floor, in addition to many guests from the Princess Issena, the Prince George and many from Daytona.

One of the smartest parties at the Clarendon this week was the dinner given by Mrs. John L. Roe, of New York, in the Dutch grill last night. Seated at the cleverly appointed table were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laughlin, Mrs. F. E. Fenton, Leverett Hayden and the hostess, Mrs. Roe. After dinner the party joined the dancers in the ball room.

R. G. Keeney, of New York, arrived yesterday, coming to join his parents General and Mrs. George Keeney, who are guests at the Clarendon for the season.

Miss Louise Wilson entertained informally at luncheon at the Clarendon Friday, her guests being Mr. and Mrs. Hague and Mrs. Reid.

Mrs. O. Taussig and Miss Taussig, of New York City, joined the coterie of season guests at the Clarendon yesterday, coming for their third winter at the hotel. Miss Taussig, one of the most charming of the New York society girls, will be a decided acquisition to the younger set.

W. P. Bacon and W. A. Nelson, of Derby, Conn., have joined F. H. Ward at the Clarendon for the season. Both Mr. Bacon and Mr. Nelson are enthusiastic sportsmen and are among the happy few who do everything well, from golf to bridge.

Mrs. F. Harrison and attractive Miss Martha G. Harrison are among the interesting New York people who are guests at the Clarendon.

W. S. Gaylord, of Chicago, Ill., whose figure has been a familiar one at the Clarendon for several seasons, arrived last night and is receiving cordial welcome from the colony of winter visitors.

Chester B. Humphrey and Walter S. Bucklow, well known society men of Boston, are late additions to the Massachusetts group at the Clarendon, where they will spend the next several weeks.

Canon McGrath will hold Sunday services in the music room of the Clarendon at 5 o'clock.

TWO BELOW AT ASHVELLE; THE COLD ENVELOPS SOUTH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Florida growers were hard hit by the cold wave which enveloped the South, commencing Friday. The cold apparently reached its climax with high winds and snow Sunday in many sections, with continued freezing weather today to Middle Florida.

In the north central counties the loss of fruit still on the citrus trees is heavy. Young trees have been cut down. Truck growers in some sections lost practically the entire crop.

Temperatures in the south this morning, after moderate weather Sunday, reached two degrees below zero at Asheville, five above in Atlanta, and 26 above in Jacksonville and New Orleans.

RED CROSS ORDERED TO PREPARE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Red Cross headquarters have sent orders for immediate preparations for active war relief to its 265 chapters in the United States.

HOUSATONIC WAS AMPLY WARNED.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The Housatonic, which was sunk by a German submarine off the Scilly islands Saturday noon, was given full warning and an opportunity given for the safety of the crew, according to a dispatch to the state department from American Consul Stephens, at Plymouth, England.

It appears that the sinking of the Housatonic was not illegal. She was carrying contraband wheat.

GERMANY'S SUBMARINE ORDER NOT CHANGED.

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—Authoritative information to the Associated Press indicates a peaceful continuation of German-American relations after the departure of the respective embassies in the sense outlined by President Wilson appears slight.

Germany's submarine order has not been modified and only avoidance of the prohibited zone appears to offer any security to neutral ships.

STILL TOO EARLY TO ESTIMATE DAMAGE TO CITRUS TREES

The low temperature prevailing Friday and Saturday nights has done an immense amount of damage to the fruit and trucking industries of the state, but it is still too early to know just how great this damage has been to the citrus trees. It was several weeks after the disastrous freeze of 1894-5 before the orange growers knew for sure that they had lost their trees to the very roots.

The writer has been a resident of this section since 1882 and has seen a number of these freezes, starting with that of the last week in December, 1886, when it froze for three days and nights without cessation and the fish in the Halifax river gave up their lives in hundreds of thousands. The orange trees at that time were dormant and little damage resulted to them. They shed their leaves and when they started growth were white with bloom and carried a big crop of fruit. In later freezes, notably 1895-1 and 1894-5 there were double freezes, one following the other by a few weeks and the second catching the trees when full of tender growth and buds.

This time many trees were already white with bloom and full of new growth, owing to the unusually warm weather of January. These trees at best will lose this tender growth and blossom buds and may be more severely injured. The extremely dry weather of January in a measure offset the high temperature and may prove a factor in preventing extreme injury to citrus trees. Under the conditions the growers will probably be well satisfied if the trunks and the main branches of the bearing trees are not damaged.

Rolland E. Stevens, of the Munroe & Stevens groves, stated this morning that they had saved a large part of their grapefruit by the use of smudge pots, but owing to the wind which prevailed Friday night the smoke and heat were carried away so rapidly that fruit in some instances froze solid within eight feet of the fires. About 10,000 boxes of fruit, practically half the crop, had been shipped from the Munroe & Stevens groves prior to the freeze. Mr. Stevens said that the temperature at the groves showed 20 degrees Friday night and 18 degrees Saturday night. He further said that it would be two weeks or longer before the extent of damage to the trees would be known. He was satisfied that in most cases the small wood, as well as the blossom, had been killed, but was hoping that the bodies of the trees were still all right.

FINAL PLANS FOR THE ELKS' CHARITY BALL

The Casino Burgoyne, where the event of the winter season will be staged on Wednesday evening, February 7th, will be closed Tuesday morning and all concerts will be omitted until the following evening. All plans have been finally completed for this, the society event of the year, and arrangements have been made to please all who come.

The public is assured that the casino will be amply heated should the cold weather still prevail and that every precaution will be taken to insure the comfort of those present. The committee in charge is prepared to see that every one will be seated and have made arrangements to handle any exigencies that may arise.

A grand concert by the orchestra, assisted by a number of soloists of repute, will be rendered, beginning at 8:30 and at 9 p. m. will take place the promenade which will inaugurate the festivities of the Seven Annual Elks' Charity Ball. A number of interesting features will be a part of the program and dancing will prevail until the wee hour of the morning after.

Two 15-piece orchestras, stationed at oposite ends of the hall will be on raised platforms and will play alternately throughout the evening. All the popular dances will be in vogue in addition to the old time favorites and the old fashioned waltz again in fashion will be prominent on the programs.

Tickets may be secured at all the hotels, places of business and from members of the local Elks' lodge.
